EXAMPLES

AFFILI STORES BENEFIT

AffiliStores are up to date with how today's shoppers browse and select products to purchase. With simple and professional-looking responsive websites, the stores are ready to simplify the purchasing process as much as possible.

Modern store look

A great-looking online store is the first thing people see and can create a strong first impression in the shopper's community. Even the best products can be hindered by outdated website designs. With more and more resources invested in the way online pages look, it's no wonder Affili Stores offers such a distinct look which can be tailored according to the products on sale.

A wide selection of products to sell

A wide selection of products can make a difference in sales. 74% of online shoppers are actually focused on product selection more than anything else before making a purchase. It is why the products on offer have to meet the needs customers have.

A method of driving traffic

Affili Stores comes with integrated techniques which are at the base of generating natural organic traffic to the website. This type of traffic is highly valuable and considered to be superior to paid traffic which comes through advertisements.

Guided steps

Affili Stores offers products with step-by-step functionality guides. Those unsure on how to proceed to have their stores up and running can consider this guide for quick results.

A method of driving traffic

Affiliate store training and set up can cost thousands. Affili Stores atomizes this process and it is able to offer the stores for an affordable rate. Future store owners don't need web companies to code website and to waste time in finding the best hosting. With no money spent on marketing training, Affili Stores can save thousands even for new users.

AFFILI STORES FEATURES

It goes without saying that a product such as Affili Stores is packed with features. Complex websites need to be feature-rich in the increasingly competitive online world.

Top-sellers showcase

Showcasing top-sellers is one of the most efficient and underrated marketing techniques. Why hide products on the back pages of a website when customers already love them? This includes special deals and discounted products.

Effortless upsells

Upsells are another proven marketing technique with impressive potential. Users simply have the ability to see similar products and decide to make an extended purchase

Social proof

Reviews are one of the first elements buyers consider. Having reviews on the social channels is a strong sales funnel in itself. Some buyers simply want to get other information apart from the product description and relate to how the product performs with normal use.

Maximized engagement

Buyers can leave reviews directly on the website. This improves the credibility and the transparency of the website and of the product. In terms of profits, it translates into extra commissions.

UNIQUE FEATURES

There's more than a simple store behind Affili Stores. Even the legal part of the stores is taken care of so that store owners can focus on sales.

Since the products come from affiliate sources, the AI of the Affiliate stores automatically updates all products. Description and pricing information is included. This way, profits are maximized with no wasted time

Unlimited product choice

There is no limit to the number of products displayed in the store. Unlimited products can be displayed from multiple eCom networks for higher profits.

Organic growth

Search engine optimization plays the most important role when it comes to organic traffic. Luckily, Affili Stores offers immediate indexation in the search engine.

Long-term profits

Whenever a product is added in the basket, cookies tracking ensures commission can be earned for up to three months in the future.

Built-in scaling

Live analytics are built-in stores. It is why stores owners always know when and how to scale their stores.

Passive profit

Banner ads at the top of the page can be added as well. They can create revenue per click.

Auto product placement

Each product is automatically placed in its own category. Appropriate search tags are also added to the product to gain better results in the search engines.

Hosted store

All expensive hosting and selecting the right provider problems are swept away with Affili Store hosting.

Auto legal page

There is an automatic terms and conditions builder which simplifies the process of opening an online store.

TESTIMONIALS

- Rustam Sandegi

"This is the ultimate affiliate solution, especially for newbie marketers wanting to make their first commission online.

Within minutes you can create an affiliate store full of products from Amazon, eBay, and Ali Express! The traffic features are pretty cool too...

Make sure you grab the upgrade though, which allows you to create stores full of products from JVzoo!"

"Thanks for providing early access to Affili Stores. I was able to create my first store in just a couple of minutes thanks to the awesome training. I decided to focus on the dog niche and thanks to the affiliate networks I can select products from, my store is now full of hot-selling dog products from Ali Express and Amazon.

I found that your customer support is rock solid and my store looks absolutely beautiful!

This software gets FIVE STARS!

Thanks again."
